DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 5/29/09 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-4, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Singh et al. (6,493,038).

Regarding claim 1, Singh discloses a real-time rendering step (11-13), a non real-time rendering step (col. 2, lines 57-60), and a multiplexing step (20). Singh teaches that the video source 1 is from a DVD or a VCR. It is understood that both the DVD player and the VCR player include a fast forward playback function which enables the recorded video presented in a faster manner than normally would. This function clearly meets the non real-time rendering step as claimed.

Regarding claims 2-4, see Figures 1a, 1b and 2.

Regarding claim 11, see rejections above.

Regarding claim 12, in addition of above, Singh further teaches that the invention is carried out by multiple processors (note col. 3, lines 31-44).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 5, 6, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Singh et al. (6,493,038) in view of Crow et al. (6,538,665).

Regarding claim 5, Singh does not teach the providing step and the indicating step as claimed. Crow, from the similar field of endeavor, teaches a graphical representation of a time line for a time-based media (note Figure 3a). The graphical representation of a time line enables the viewer to know the time position of a playback device by a glance. Hence, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made to include the graphical time line representation of Crow into Singh so that the playback time position could be readily grasped.

Regarding claim 6, by the same token above, the graphical representation of a time line in Crow can be included into video 3 of Singh if the receiver 10 is substituted by a playback device.

Regarding claim 9, Crow includes a direction indicator.

Regarding claim 10, Singh inherently includes a video stream synchronized audio signal.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to M. Lee whose telephone number 571-272-7349. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Thursday from 9 to 6.
